Video and Audio Consent and Release (for instructor-led courses only)

Instructor-led live sessions (including Zoom meetings or other platforms) may be recorded. Portions of these recordings may be shared with future Inclusiv course cohorts to support and enhance the learning experience.

By enrolling in this course, you grant Inclusiv ownership rights and the irrevocable right and permission to copyright, use, and publish your recorded image and/or voice obtained during live sessions. This content may be used for instructional purposes as part of Inclusiv course materials and/or for promotional purposes related to Inclusiv programs.

Information Sharing (for courses with post-training follow-up)

After course completion, and during or after any technical assistance provided, Inclusiv may request information from you regarding how you have applied the knowledge or practices introduced during the course.

While this is not a legally binding agreement, by enrolling you signify your good faith intent to periodically share, when requested, the following information with Inclusiv for evaluation and impact purposes:

- Types of new products, programs, or services your institution has introduced, including a brief description.
- Relevant performance data (e.g., number and dollar amount of transactions, projects, or activities completed).
- Estimated impact on key target audiences or communities served, where feasible.
- Any involvement from other community-based organizations, networks, or partners.

Discrimination and Harassment Policy

Inclusiv is committed to providing a respectful, inclusive learning environment free from discrimination or harassment. Discrimination or harassment based on race, color, religion, sex, age, national origin, sexual orientation, gender identity or expression, disability, veteran status, marital status, or any other protected characteristic will not be tolerated.

Participants who engage in such behavior may be removed from the course. If you experience or witness discrimination or harassment, please contact Inclusiv at learningcenter@inclusiv.org so that the matter can be addressed promptly and with discretion.
