

Sleep Disorders Dentistry Implement Dental Sleep Med

"This is a 2-day program, designed to teach the principles of sleep medicine and the role of the dentist on the sleep medicine team. Everything you need to know to implement Dental Sleep Medicine the very next day"

– Dr. John Viviano

Learning Objectives:

This is a two-day course to prepare you for immediate immersion of your practice into dental sleep medicine. The strength of the course is its focus on the challenges that the dentist faces in this exciting field that can provide great diversity to your practice and your day in the office. Not only is the science of dental sleep medicine taught in an innovative and exciting way, but the challenges of implementation in dentistry and how to coordinate our care with medicine are faced head on with honest and direct solutions. You may also have the unique opportunity to experience an ambulatory study on Friday night.

This two-day course is designed to teach the dentist the principles of sleep medicine and the role of the dentist on the sleep medicine team. Dr. Viviano has become well recognized not only for his experience in dental sleep medicine, but for his unique teaching style that makes learning this entirely new subject matter exciting and enjoyable. The course is appropriate for the dentist AND his staff. This no nonsense approach to dental sleep medicine, minus all the dental myths that are often associated with it, leads to the potential to begin therapy without the purchase of ANY irrelevant "instrumentation" that is often associated with entrance into this critical field.

Participants should be able to return to their offices fully equipped to begin to add sleep dentistry to their practices. All aspects of oral appliance therapy, handling of side effects, as well as the basics of sleep medicine including sleep architecture, snoring, UARS, apnea, and polysomnias, will be reviewed. An entire section is devoted to occlusion and bruxism, a sleep movement disorder. This allows us to put dental sleep medicine and the possible side effects into proper perspective as the crucial risk/benefit decision-making is made with our patients.
