

Capability Statement

The Sprinkle Me Learning Academy is an online training coaching and development exploration empowerment platform, launched in 2015. SMLA originally provided distance learning (trainings) and later added face to face training serving organizations, corporations, individuals, staff and groups. SMLA also takes pride in serving vulnerable populations such as trafficking, re-entry, domestic violence victims, displaced workers, formal foster youth, low income families, veterans, TAY youth, youth, grandmothers and women in transition. Our development model has been very effective and our team is very culture competent, experienced and passionate about empowering others. We provide face to face and virtual solutions, implementing evidence based innovative approach in which inspires our clients and partners to put what they have learned into action immediately. SMLA honors The Legendary “Dr. Suga-T Stevens.” She is a personal and transformation expert, wellness and enterprise coach, as well as a multi-platinum and gold selling legendary entertainer. She sacrificed her successful entertainment career to be a better role model, and pursue up to a PHD. Although she has accomplished a large body of work, in entertainment, empowering others is another passion and gift. SMLA is named after a 30 year old multi-platinum hit song that encourages teaching & learning in its lyrical content, highly admired all over the world still today, giving SMLA a chance to share the power of knowledge on its virtual and distance learning platform.
